

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA

TOKA, LLC,

Plaintiff,

v.

MILESSTORE, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 25-cv-593

Judge Bissoon

FILED UNDER SEAL

1) TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER; 2) ORDER RESTRAINING ASSETS AND MERCHANT STOREFRONTS; 3) ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE WHY A PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION SHOULD NOT ISSUE; AND 4) ORDER AUTHORIZING EXPEDITED DISCOVERY

This matter is before the Court upon Plaintiff's Ex Parte Application for the following: 1) a temporary restraining order; 2) an order restraining assets and Merchant Storefronts (as defined infra); 3) an order to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not issue; and 4) an order authorizing expedited discovery against the Defendants identified on Schedule "A" to the Complaint and attached hereto (collectively, the "Defendants"). The Court has considered the Application, the evidence in the record, and the applicable law.

By the instant Application, Plaintiff moves ex parte pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 64 and 65, and the All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651(a), for entry of a temporary restraining order and an order restraining assets and Merchant Storefronts, for violations of the Lanham Act, 1125(a), Patent Act, and related state law claims. Because Plaintiff has satisfied the requirements for the issuance of a temporary restraining order, and good cause has been shown for the issuance of the same, the Court grants Plaintiff's Application.

FACTUAL FINDINGS & CONCLUSION OF LAW

1. Plaintiff, TOKA, LLC, is likely to prevail on its Lanham Act false advertisement claim, Patent Infringement, and related state law claim at trial.

2. Plaintiff is a Connecticut corporation that advertises, sells, and distributes outlet extenders online throughout the world. Since its entrance to the outlet extender market, Plaintiff has spent substantial time, money, and resources to establish a reputation among the public for providing quality and safe products to consumers and has garnered widespread goodwill among consumers as a result.

3. Plaintiff maintains an independent website in addition to selling its products via the Amazon.com online marketplace. Plaintiff accurately advertises its product so that consumers can easily compare products and be confident that they are choosing a safe and effective outlet extender. The products sold by Plaintiff have been tested to ensure heightened safety standards.

4. Defendants, by operating Internet based e-commerce stores, and fully interactive commercial Internet websites operating under Defendants' respective seller identities set forth on Schedule "A" hereto (the "Seller IDs"), have advertised, promoted, sold, and offered for sale infringing products on the basis of literally false claims and Plaintiff has determined that the products each Defendant is offering for sale are falsely advertised as being UL certified, having a functional grounded plug, and/or are Plaintiff's products through the use of Plaintiff's images.

5. Through the Amazon.com, AliExpress.com, eBay.com, Wish.com, and Walmart.com online marketplaces, Plaintiff accessed all of the e-commerce stores operating under Defendants' Seller IDs and captured the Defendants' listings at issue on the e-commerce stores. At the conclusion of the process, the detailed webpages and product listings were inspected by Plaintiff's representative who confirmed that each Defendant is featuring, displaying, and/or using literally false statements in commercial advertisements to misrepresent the characteristics and/or qualities of their products.

6. Plaintiff has a likelihood of proving at trial that consumers are likely to be confused by Defendants' advertisement, promotion, sale, offer for sale, or distribution of falsely advertised and infringing products in violation of section 43(a) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a), 35 U.S.C. § 271, and prevailing on their related state law claims.

7. Plaintiff, as well as consumers, are likely to suffer immediate and irreparable losses, damages and injuries before Defendants can be heard in opposition, unless Plaintiff's Application for ex parte relief is granted. There is good cause to believe that the literally false material claims made by Defendants will continue in the marketplace; that consumers are likely to be misled, confused, and disappointed by the quality of the products so advertised, and that Plaintiff may suffer loss of sales for its accurately advertised products and an unnatural erosion of the legitimate marketplace in which they operate. There is also good cause to believe that if Plaintiff proceeds on notice to Defendants of this Application, Defendants can easily and quickly change the ownership or modify e-commerce store account data and content, change payment accounts, redirect consumer traffic to other seller ID names, and transfer assets and ownership of Seller IDs, thereby thwarting Plaintiff's ability to obtain meaningful relief. As other courts have recognized, proceedings against those who deliberately deceive consumers are often useless if notice is given to the adverse party.

8. The balance of potential harm to Defendants of being prevented from continuing to profit from their illegal and infringing activities if a temporary restraining order is issued is far outweighed by the potential harm to Plaintiff, its reputation, and its goodwill as a manufacturer and distributor of quality products, if such relief is not issued.

9. The public interest favors issuance of the temporary restraining order in order to protect Plaintiff's interests and protect the public from being deceived and defrauded by Defendants' misrepresentations of the characteristics and/or qualities of their products.

10. Under Pennsylvania law this Court may issue a prejudgment asset restraint where Plaintiff's complaint asserts a claim for money damages.<sup>1</sup> This Court also has the inherent authority to issue a prejudgment asset restraint when Plaintiff's complaint seeks relief in equity. According to the Lanham Act 15 U.S.C. § 1117(a)(1), Plaintiff is entitled, "subject to the principles of equity, to recover (1) defendant's profits, (2) any damages sustained by the plaintiff, and (3) the costs of the action." Plaintiff seeks, among other relief, that Defendants account for and pay to Plaintiff all profits realized by Defendants by reason of Defendants' unlawful acts. Therefore, this Court has the authority to grant Plaintiff's request for a prejudgment asset freeze to preserve the relief sought by Plaintiff and preserve the Defendants' ability to at least partially satisfy a judgment.

11. Similarly, if Defendants are given notice of the Application, they are likely to destroy, move, hide or other make inaccessible to Plaintiff the records and documents relating to Defendants' illegal false advertising activities. Therefore, Plaintiff has good cause to be granted expedited discovery.
